

INVASION OF DYKE THREATENS IDYLIC HOUSEBOAT RESORT

Peaceful Dell Near Alexandria Losing Charm Through Revelers.

WASHINGTON TIMES BUREAU,
ALEXANDRIA, VA., SEPT. 3.

Just ten miles from Washington, midway between the Potomac river and the Mt. Vernon electric line, is situated one of the most delightful summer resorts in this vicinity, the existence of which is little known to the average Washingtonian. Until a few years ago the land in the vicinity was of little value, and was hardly more than a non-descript picnic ground. However, the resort is becoming yearly more popular, and the peace of this haven bids fair to be disturbed by the invasion of the city seeker after recreation.

The Dyke, as it is known, always has been a veritable little Newport, and nearly as exclusive, it has been inhabited solely by persons of fair circumstances, who moored their houseboats in its precincts for several months each year, and breathed its delightful atmosphere. Nothing was there to disturb one's dreamy peace, and, if so disposed, one could drop his line from his front window, and while away the summer days in fishing.

But it now appears that the privacy of this little Eden is doomed; each train on Sunday is loaded with passengers for the Dyke, the resort is thronged, and peace seems almost no more. The railway company has constructed a dancing pavilion near by, and this sustains its popularity during the week. Should the merry-go-round and amusements of similar kind invade, peace and quietude will reign no more within the precincts of this dreamy sylvan dell.

The city Democratic committee, Charles Bendheim, chairman, will meet at Hotel Rammell tomorrow evening and complete arrangements for the United States Senatorial primary to be held here next Thursday, September 7. Clerks and judges will be selected for the event.

Little interest is manifested in the primary here, it seems that this city is overwhelmingly in favor of the Martin-Swanson faction, and is even so conceded by the Glass-Jones supporters.

In accordance with the State law all saloons will close at sunset Wednesday, and will not again reopen their doors until Friday morning.

At the monthly meeting of R. E. Lee Camp of Confederate Veterans to be held tomorrow night, the committee in charge of the presentation to the city of the old battle flag, recently returned by the New York State legislature, will make a full report and the date for the presentation will be set. It is not yet known whether Louis Cuvillier, former Alexandria resident and now a member of the New York State assembly, who engineered the return of the flag, will be able to be present on that occasion or not.

The funeral of Mrs. Aaron Katz will be held from the family residence, 117 South Fairfax street, at 4 o'clock this afternoon. The services will be conducted by Rabbi Stern, of Washington, and burial will be in the Jewish Cemetery.

Funeral services for Miss Margaret Schwalbe will be held from the house, 214 North Royal street, at 2 o'clock this afternoon. Rev. P. Parker Phillips, rector of St. Paul's Episcopal Church, officiating. Burial will be made in St. Paul's Cemetery.

The funeral of Levi Huffman, the aged civil war veteran, will be held Tuesday afternoon. Burial will be in Arlington Cemetery.

A burning pan of grease on the second floor of the cafe of Louis Brill, on the Strand, called out the fire apparatus at 5:30 o'clock last evening, but the blaze was extinguished before their arrival.

St. Mary's Academy for Girls will open for the fall session next Tuesday.

Hubert Snowden, clerk of the school board, will begin the issuance of school permits from his office in the Light Infantry Armory, tomorrow morning, and ending Friday. His hours will be from 9 a. m. to 2 p. m.

Timothy Ryan, Long A Soldier, Is Dead

Timothy Ryan, fifty-two years old, a veteran of the Spanish-American war, and who for twenty-one years was in the United States army, died this morning at the Soldiers' Home. Funeral services will be held Wednesday, with interment in the Home Cemetery.

Ryan, who was born in Ireland, leaves no relatives in this country. A sister lives in Ireland and is the only known relative. He had been at the Home since 1904.

Glen Echo Concerts.

Two concerts by the Charles O'Milla Orchestra will be a certain attraction for visitors at Glen Echo Park today. An interesting program of popular and classical music, varied enough to meet the tastes of all, will be given. In addition to these concerts, which are free, are the moving pictures, beginning at 8:30, for which no admission is charged.

LAND BOOSTERS OF THE NORTHWEST TO TOUR EAST IN FALL

"Governors' Special" Will Invade Cities Seeking Converts—To Come Here.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Sept. 3.—Governors of Western and Northwestern States, officers of the Panama-Pacific Exposition, and members of Congress, headed by former Gov. James H. Brady of Idaho, will make a 4,000-mile tour through the East this fall as a part of a comprehensive plan to bring people who "must move" to the West and Northwest, in preference to going into Canada or the far South to seek homes and investments.

The train will move from Omaha in October, going to Chicago, St. Louis, Cincinnati, Indianapolis, Cleveland, Toledo, Pittsburgh, Philadelphia, New York city, up into New England and returning by way of Washington.

This tour will be made on a special train which will not only carry half a dozen or more Western governors, but four or five exhibit cars to "show" the people of the East the products of Western and Northwestern States: resources of their soil, rivers, lakes, mines, forests, and factories. It will be known as the "Western Governors' Special."

Back of this tour are the development leagues, commercial clubs, and other organizations in the States represented which are seeking to do more than depend on natural development to advance the progress and increase the wealth of their States. Former Governor Brady himself heads an organization devoted to the development of a number of Western States.

The "western governor's special" will leave Omaha about October 20, during the Western Land Products Show, and will visit land shows and expositions in the East including Pittsburgh, New York city, and Chicago, returning to St. Paul about December 17, where the Northwestern Land Products show will be in progress.

As the train progresses Eastward the western governors will invite the chief executive of each State to meet the special at the border of his commonwealth and accompany the train while it is touring his State.

The special will arrive in the capital about the time the members of Congress are packing their grips to return home for the holidays, and they will be invited to join the special and remain on board as passengers until the train reaches the Twin City Land Show in St. Paul.

How to Make a Real
Wrinkle Remover

(From Fashion Reporter.)

In these days of cleverly advertised "beautifiers" of 57 varieties and more, it is hard for any woman to believe that she can make a simple home remedy which will do her much more good, and cost her much less than the average made preparation. Take the subject of wrinkles, for instance. There is nothing in the world so effective for removing or preventing wrinkles, baggy cheeks and double chin, as a solution of salolite and witch hazel.

Get an ounce of pure powdered salolite from any drug store, dissolve full ounce in a half pint of witch hazel and use the mixture daily as a refreshing lotion. The quick and satisfactory results will surprise you. Even after the very first application there is a marked improvement. The wrinkles are less in evidence and the face has a firm, "solid" feeling that is very comforting.

Angry Brothers Give Drubbing to James Coyle

Remarks reflecting upon the character of their father, now dead, are the reason given by William H. Chambers, Jr., and Ernest S. Chambers for a severe drubbing of James Coyle, of 1731 Park road, when the three met in Pennsylvania avenue last night.

Mr. Coyle is declared to have said that the father of the young men cheated him out of some money, whereupon an argument followed. Mr. Coyle is said to have been attacked and knocked to the pavement. All three men were arrested and are free today after payment of collateral to appear in Police Court tomorrow. The Chambers brothers were charged with assault, while Mr. Coyle was held for disturbing the peace.

National to Have "The Red Rose"

On September 18 the National Theater will throw open its doors for the ragtime season. The opening attraction will be "The Red Rose," a musical comedy that comes direct from New York at the close of an all-summer run.

Valeska Suratt has the leading role, and is supported by an excellent company. Those who have seen the play declare it to have all the elements necessary for success. The music is bright and catchy, the costumes are brilliant and effective, and no pains have been spared in providing elaborate scenery. One of the most attractive features is a scene in which all the women of the company wear harem skirts—not the pronounced near-trousers that were the sensation of Paris—but real Oriental costumes.

A corps of painters and decorators is engaged in putting the National in order, inside and out. The work will be completed in a few days.

Of Course Not.
